MANY BEAUTIFUL THINGS: THE LIFE AND VISION OF LILIAS TROTTER

Has the world missed one of the greatest artists of all time?

From Victorian England comes the untold story of Lilian Trotter and her opportunity of a lifetime, her chance to become a legend and her decision that changed everything. Could you give up your dream to instead follow your calling?

Many Beautiful Things tells the story of Liliias Trotter, a 19th century British painter who sacrificed artistic fame in order to serve God as a missionary in Algeria. Trotter's extraordinary gift was noticed by famous art critic, John Ruskin who believed Trotter could become one of England's greatest artists. But to Ruskin's consternation, Trotter's unflinching love for the needy and those without Christ led her to focus on ministry and in time Trotter could not escape God's undeniable calling to serve on the mission field.

This remarkable story challenges Christians to ask themselves key questions such as, "What is God asking me to do with the gifts I have?" and "What would I be willing to sacrifice in order to be faithful to Christ?"

Trotter's profound spiritual insights were featured in the book, A Path Through Suffering by Elisabeth Elliot.

Featuring the voices of Michelle Dockery (Downton Abbey) and John Rhys-Davies (Lord of the Rings, Indiana Jones).

PITCH, THE: PASSING THE HAT FOR A LIVING

By Jim Kuehnel

What is a "Brusker"? According to Merriam-Webster, a brusker is a 'street performer'; a person who entertains in a public place for donations. Street performance or busking is the act of performing in public places for gratuities. In many instances the rewards are in the form of money but other gratuities such as food, drink or gifts may be given. Brusking is practiced all over the world and dates back to antiquity. It is also, in contemporary times, used by performers as a way to get discovered.

Performances can be virtually anything... anything that people find entertaining. Performers may do acrobatics, animal tricks, balloon twisting, caricatures, clowning, comedy, contortions, escapology, dance, singing, fire skills, flea circus, fortune-telling, juggling, magic, mime, living statue, musical performance, puppeteering, snake charming, storytelling or reciting poetry or prose, street art such as sketching and painting, street theatre, sword swallowing, and ventriloquism. Brusking is only limited by the imagination of the performer.

"The Pitch" takes a look at the world of international street performing bruskers to find out why these men and women have chosen to "pass the hat" to make a living, along with the challenges they face.

The fast-tracked project was filmed over the summers of 2015 and 2016 documenting busker performances and interviews during the 25th and 26th edition of the Buskers on The Bay Festivals.

Buskers featured in the film hail from Australia, England, the US and Canada, providing a broad spectrum of performers. The film is produced by Jim Kuehnel with Mark Berry and Duane Farley as Executive Producers.

Featured artists and interviews include Aerial Manx, Andrew Lopatin, Brad The Balloon Guy, Pogo Fred, Super Elvis, The Flying Tortillas, Madame Guillotine and many more.

Only available in United States.

SELLING FOR THE SMALL BUSINESS ENTREPRENEUR

In this 4 DVD set Richard will take you through the process of selling. Starting with identifying new prospects to the close and beyond Richard will help you to understand how sales operates and how to grow your business. There are 16 modules in this set and the total video time is 6 hours.

The challenge for entrepreneurs and small business owners is that they often have the essential skills to do the work, but fail in the very essential skills of selling their work.

This training just about selling.

1 - What is Selling?
At the beginning we discovered that selling is not about shifting product but about keeping customers coming back over and over again.

2 - Life Time Value
We have to treat our customers for their Life Time Value and then they become life time customers and encourage their friends to do the same.

3 - Cold Calling
Convert Cold Calling to Warm Calling by finding out as much information as you can in advance of the call.

4 - Referrals & Networking
Referrals are the best way to grow your business. Don't wait for referrals to come to you, ask for them.

5 - Social Media
Selling is all about forming relationships and so is social media.

6 - Keeping Customers
Once you have a new customer you keep them by making close personal friends with them

7 - Creating the right impression
You have just 4 minutes at the beginning of a meeting to create the right impression. Make sure you make them count.

8 - Body Language 1
Your Body Language is talking for you all the time, make sure it is saying the right things.

9 - Body Language 2
Remember ESP!
E = Get Eye Contact. S = Smile. P = Show the palms of your hands.

10 - Features Needs & Benefits

In selling we never sell features, we only sell benefits. A benefit is a feature that the customer needs.

11 - The Sales Conversation

The point of the sales conversation is to uncover the customer's needs. To do that we use Open Questions. Once we have uncovered the need we will confirm the need using a closed question and then give the customer confidence that we can fix his problem with a support statement. Finally we will offer our benefit and get agreement that our solution has solved his problem.

12 - Buying Decisions

Buying decisions are always made emotionally

13 - Price

Price is never the first thing the customer thinks about. If the product or service does not work for the customer, it doesn't matter how cheap it is. The customer cares about value, not price.

14 - Quotations vs. Proposals

Focus on your customer's problem and your solution rather than simply selling what you have.

15 - Closing the Sale

Always ask for the business. If you don't close you are working for the opposition.

NEW RADICAL, THE

Director: Adam Bhala Lough

Making a printable gun landed Cody Wilson on the U.S. government's watch list. Together with British programmer Amir Taaki, they founded a Bitcoin app that allows its users to "go dark" - because for this pair of crypto-anarchists, ensuring freedom of information and challenging economic structures they view as corrupt is mandatory. Adam Lough glimpses a rarified world, where these new radicals revel in questioning everything from gun control to encryption, even if it means incarceration. Yet the question remains: Are they freedom fighters or criminals? This captivating encounter examines how their distinct group came about and what their existence says about the economic, cultural, and technological landscape.

TARGETING BEHAVIOR AND ACADEMIC INTERVENTIONS: A PROCESS TO DIAGNOSE AND COORDINATE STUDENT SUPPORTS

By: Mike Mattos, Austin Buffum

As a step-by-step guide to the Pro-Solve Process of behavioral interventions, this RTI at Work (MTSS) video will guide teacher teams in increasing student success.

Students at risk of not acquiring essential academic skills also often experience behavior problems that affect student success. But how can schools coordinate and combine their academic and behavioral interventions into a united system? In this unscripted video workshop from RTI at Work? co-creators Austin Buffum and Mike Mattos, teacher teams address this dilemma using the Pro-Solve Process. At the heart of the process is a sequence of five questions that help determine the causes and potential student support solutions for those in need of behavioral interventions.

This comprehensive RTI (MTSS) video provides K-12 teacher teams with:

- High-quality footage demonstrating the Pro-Solve Process in real teacher team settings
- In-depth exploration of the Pro-Solve Process and five guiding questions to effectively implement it step by step
- Effective strategies for meeting each student's specific behavioral and academic needs at the necessary response to intervention tier

ENVIRONMENT

GOOD THINGS TO DO

There is one island that is eco-sustainable now.

Can it teach its entire nation to be eco-sustainable by 2030?

Can that nation then teach the world?

GOOD THINGS TO DO is a film from the bright side of renewable energy. It is the work of Barbara Ferrari And Thomas Peres.

Our planet's quest for sustainability takes many forms, but one such effort has yielded results that could very well teach all of us methods of success.

The Danish island of Samso is an experimental site for renewable energy production: wind turbine farms; biomass power plants; and solar panels. All are used to generate electricity, heating and hot water for the island's population, farmers, and tourism operators who have invested in this green revolution and have set out to show the world that Denmark can change our relationship with energy resources.

The mission is to make Denmark completely eco-sustainable by 2030.

PLANE TRUTHS

Directed by Melissa Young and Mark Dworkin

With the "Pivot to Asia" increased activity at the navy base on Whidbey Island, WA is making life unbearable for locals and wildlife - collateral damage in the ever increasing militarization of our society.

The recent expansion of Navy training activities in the Northwest has many local residents concerned. Will more of our communities become collateral damage?

Community members on Whidbey Island, the San Juans, and the Olympic Peninsula are disturbed by an increase in noise caused by new EA-18G "Growler" jets based at Naval Air Station Whidbey (NAS)--and a significant proposed expansion of daily Growler test flights. On Whidbey, communities have been additionally impacted by water system pollution caused by chemicals (PFOA & PFOS) used for firefighting on NAS landing strips.

PLANE TRUTHS explores a variety of perspectives on these issues from farmers, current and retired military personnel, environmentalists and other citizens of the affected areas. Viewers will learn how the noise of the Growler jets has affected daily life and business operations in many communities, about the regional environmental impacts of expanded Growler flights and newly approved Navy training in Olympic National Forest, the potential economic ramifications of increased Navy activity and associated population growth, and the status of--and Navy response to--water system pollution on Whidbey Island.

As the ideology of perpetual war becomes ever more embedded in our economy, communities near US bases here and around the world face similar problems.

SPIRIT OF THE BULL

By Edwin Brochin

They fight to survive... and they also run free...

Spirit of the Bull is the story of a brutal and blood-thirsty fighting bull named El Toron, known to have gored two matadors during an epic bull fight in Old Mexico. Though a famous matador eventually felled the mighty beast, El Toron's story of blood, blades and freedom has become legend.

Born and bred for his aggression, the once wild and true native Spanish bull bloodline found in El Toron lives on today in his offspring who still battle merciless matadors in bull fighting arenas throughout Mexico.

In a strange paradox, this ferocious bloodline can also be found in the tranquil mountain regions of the interior where direct descendants of El Toron now roam in wild herds. News of El Toron's death caused such a distraction that the ranch hands left the herd unattended. The bulls escaped from captivity in the late 1930's only to re-establish themselves as the feral, free and majestic creatures they were created to be. His story of blood, blades and freedom will now be told!

I, PEDOPHILE

By Matthew Campea

Pedophiles have long been the most demonized people in society. New research is showing that understanding the condition is the first step in lowering instances of child sexual abuse. Pedophilia expert Dr. James Cantor's ground-breaking and controversial hypothesis that pedophilia is a developmental disorder in the brain resulting in sexual attraction to children, attempts to demystify the cause of pedophilia.

Some of the characters appear as themselves, but due to the stigma and possible legal repercussions of coming out as a pedophile, the film uses dramatic re-creations to tell their stories, and actors speak the words of those who fear to appear on camera.

IS SUGAR THE NEW FAT?

Interviews with scientists and the food industry reveal the link between obesity and sugar.

Sugar! What's not to like? It's being touted as highly addictive and the biggest contributor to the current worldwide obesity epidemic. We used to think high in fat diet was to blame so who's the real bad guy? This series takes on world-leading scientists and the food industry in an attempt to understand the truth about sugar.

Hosted by noted psychologist and New Zealand TV presenter Nigel Latta, with commentary by USC professor of childhood endocrinology Robert Lustig, author of Fat Chance: Beating the Odds Against Sugar, Processed Food, Obesity, and Disease, the documentary presents a compelling argument that added sugars should be treated with the seriousness accorded to the negative dietary impact from fats.

The documentary features Latta as he sets out on a journey to peel back the sugar coating and see what truth lies beneath the global debate that is consuming nutrition experts.

HISTORY

CARRY ME HOME

A powerful story of freedom that was fought for on the Underground Railroad through the unrelenting courage and determination of Harriet Tubman.

Joshua Henry's Carry Me Home is a beautifully produced 23-minute short film based on the true story of Maria Ennals (Lindsey Grimbale) and her family in the Antebellum South during the cold winter of 1860, and inspired by the equally true story of Harriet Tubman's final journey south.

Maria is a young mother trapped in slavery who seizes the opportunity to escape with her family when she encounters HARRIET TUBMAN (Karen Abercrombie, War Room). Harriet leads the young family through a number of trials on the Underground Railroad, causing them all to question whether or not freedom is worth the price they must pay to obtain it.

CLARISSA'S WAR

Clarissa's War is the unforgettable story of Clarissa Wakefield, an independent and intelligent Kentucky girl caught in a marriage not of her desire.

A passionate tale of forbidden love, intense hate, racial tension and death, it is a story of victory for some and defeat for others set during the most tragic time of our nation's history...The War Between the States.

A dramatic tale, the film touches upon numerous social issues; some distinct to the time period (slavery, the forbidden love between a southern woman and a Yankee soldier), and some more timeless including domestic violence. It is also a wonderful example of an independently produced period drama.

The film is adapted by Greg J. Welsch from the novel 'This Time Forever' by Kentucky author, Linda Swift.

COME BEFORE WINTER

Director: Kevin Ekvall
Key cast: Gus Lynch, Aubrey Wakeling, Sefton Delmar, Rebecca Summer, Scotty Ray, Kelly Reed

Come Before Winter tells the true story of two longtime foes of Adolf Hitler; Sefton Delmer and Pastor Dietrich Bonhoeffer. During the dying days of the Third Reich these two men, in very different ways, helped bring about the fall of Hitler's regime.

In Germany, Bonhoeffer spoke boldly against the evil of Nazism and called the church to turn away from its complacency. In England, Delmer, ran a secret operation, transmitting "black propaganda" into Germany in order to demoralize the Nazis.

The stories of these heroic men and their companions intertwine as they work to end the war.

Filmed in Berlin, Buchenwald, Flossenburg and various locations in England and the United States.

HEROES OF THE SOMME

Directed by Edward Hart

Celebrating the heroes of one of mankind's bloodiest battles, Heroes of the Somme is the story of seven highly decorated military men and their bravery during WWI.

The Battle of the Somme (French: Bataille de la Somme, German: Schlacht an der Somme), also known as the Somme Offensive, was a battle of the First World War fought by the armies of the British and French empires against the German Empire. It took place between 1 July and 18 November 1916 on both sides of the upper reaches of the River Somme in France.

The battle was intended to hasten a victory for the Allies and was the largest battle of the First World War on the Western Front. More than 3 million men fought in this battle and one million men were wounded or killed

Original archives from the Western Front are used to uncover the stories of seven of the men whose remarkable bravery in 1916 won them the Victoria Cross, Britain's most prized military medal. Interviews with modern-day family members reveal the personal stories of each character, exploring the differing fortunes they experienced and the variety of reasons for which they fought.

One man went to war for adventure. For another, adventure turned into sacrifice. One's bravery was remembered for a century. Another's forgotten within a decade. One soldier fought because it was his heritage. Another because it was his duty.

Heroes of the Somme reveals how they all risked everything, all won the Victoria Cross, and all were heroes.

HEROES: SAVING JEWISH LIVES FROM THE NAZIS

During World War II the residents of a remote region of France resisted the Nazis and their collaborators thus saving the lives of thousands of Jews and other refugees.

Hear the heroic stories of bravery and mercy from those who were there, both the saviors and the survivors.

The residents of the Plateau du Vivarais, a remote region in the French countryside, stood up against the occupying Nazis and their French collaborators by giving sanctuary to those fleeing persecution during World War II. These French citizens refused to see oppressed individuals as anything other than human beings. Through their efforts over 3000 Jews and other persecuted people were spared. Experience the stories of this dark yet triumphant time as told by those who were there. And learn what made the residents of this region so willing to risk their lives to stand against the status quo.

TO AUSCHWITZ AND BACK: THE JOE ENGEL STORY

It tells a story of persecution and one man's inner-strength, fortitude and daring escape from internment in Nazi Germany. Joe Engel's determination to survive has resulted in him becoming a treasured citizen, community leader, teacher and philanthropist in America.

Born in Zakroczym, Poland in 1927, Joe Engel was taken by the Nazis at 14 and never saw his parents again. He is the embodiment of living history and spends his retirement years ensuring the Holocaust is never forgotten.

From the overwhelming despair of the Warsaw Ghetto, to the shroud of unceasing death and suffering that was Birkenau and Auschwitz, Joe then takes you through his escape from a Death Train at 17 and covert work as a freedom fighter until Liberation in 1945.

Joe's is a vivid journey to hell and back; enriched by an incredible and personal approach to storytelling. His number tattoo may have faded over time, but his passion for life and his story continues today.

With the assistance of "The United States Holocaust Memorial Museum's film and photographic archives", filmmaker Ron Small (Circle Unbroken, Medals of World War II) has successfully weaved Joe Engel's incredible storytelling into a riveting visual presentation that is both historic and contemporary.

With an unwavering will to live, Joe Engel overcame unimaginable horrors, earned his freedom through a daring escape, and fought to free others. He currently resides in Charleston, S.C.

Many people can tell a story. Very few can compel you to listen. Joe Engel, at 90 years of age, knows how to tell his story. His life is a story of faith, renewal, inner-strength and redemption. He is a charming storyteller who hopes that people will listen and learn and most of all... "never forget".

WATERLOO'S WARRIORS

The famed army that defeated Napoleon at Waterloo is often remembered as the iconic "English redcoat force". However, most of the men under the Duke of Wellingtons command weren't typically English at all. Waterloo's Warriors explores the remarkable true stories of the Irish and Scottish men and women who lived and died at the Battle of Waterloo.

Covering events leading up to and those including the bloody battle in Waterloo, Belgium on 18th June 1815, Waterloo's Warriors is an in-depth historical investigation revealing that Wellington's British army contained thousands of Irishmen and Scots. Together these Celtic troops played a vital role in the battle. Some 200 years later Waterloo's Warriors reviews this history, using first-hand accounts, dramatic re-enactments and rare Irish language documents to tell the true story of Waterloo from the perspective of Na Laochra Gael.

ANNE PERRY: PUT YOUR HEART ON THE PAGE

PUT YOUR HEART ON THE PAGE: An Introduction to Writing By Anne Perry

With 75 novels published since 1978, all remain in print. Sales total more than 25 million books.

Anne Perry started out as a good writer, but has won greatness inch by inch by reading other authors, listening to editors and agents, and adapting techniques from other creators. Now you, too, can learn from an author who The New York Times has called First Rate, and who is included in the 100 Masters of the crime genre; who has sold 25 million copies worldwide to continuing critical acclaim. In this instructional video, Anne references her quintet of novels about World War One to demonstrate the various themes which need to be considered when you first pick up that pen. Although writing a book can be like climbing Everest, the advice you find here will save troublesome extra drafts, and give you a head start towards an enjoyable writing experience and a successful novel.

BORBETOMAGUS - A POLLOCK OF SOUND

By Jef Mertens

A Pollock of Sound is the first feature-length documentary about the legendary improv / noise group Borbetomagus.

Filmmaker Jef Mertens brings a raw, urgent, and unpolished vision focusing on a band that has spent almost four decades defining and redefining not just their music, but the boundaries of music itself.

Band members Don Dietrich, Donald Miller, and Jim Sauter tell their story with the help of artists, writers, photographers, and filmmakers that include noted critic Byron Coley, drummer Chris Corsano, guitarist Thurston Moore, groundbreaking Japanese noise unit Hijokaidan, and Switzerland's masters of "cracked electronics," Voice Crack. Includes never-before-seen archival footage, amazing photographic finds, and previously unreleased recordings.

Borbetomagus formed in 1979 when saxophone players Jim Sauter and Don Dietrich joined with electric guitarist Donald Miller. Bass guitarist Adam Nodelman was briefly a member, and they have occasionally collaborated with others. Their aggressive music has been described as a huge, overpowering, take-no-prisoners mass of sound.

FINDING JOSEPH I: THE HR FROM BAD BRAINS DOCUMENTARY

Directed by James Lathos

"Finding Joseph I" is a documentary film chronicling the eccentric life of punk rock reggae singer, Paul "HR" Hudson from Bad Brains. The charismatic front-man's explosive live performances helped pioneer hardcore punk while delivering an enlightening message of positive mental attitude.

HR's heavy devotion to the Rastafarian faith guided him in a spiritual direction, leaving the band several times to explore his love for reggae music.

Over the years HR's increasingly unpredictable and abnormal behavior has many convinced that he is suffering from mental illness. Finding Joseph I illustrates the true story behind the legendary lead singer's life, career and struggles with never before seen archival footage, photography and exclusive interviews.

HEATED MELODIES

Directed by Nassim Nakad

In the hottest place on earth, making music, even playing the blues, is a political and religious challenge!

Nassim Nakad's "Heated Melodies" poses the question of "What happens to an artistic community when a country's legal system is comprised of British Common Law, French and Egyptian Civil Law and Islamic Law?"

Music is a universal language. Composing it, producing it and performing it is a challenge that requires a lot of diligence. That is the art of the musician.

In some countries the difficulties are exacerbated by political and religious acceptance-rules & laws-which impact the ability of the musician to be an artist at all. Kuwait is one of the countries!

The music community in Kuwait is growing, but it remains mostly underground as it fights the cultural and government restrictions placed upon it. Not all music is welcomed in Kuwait.

While classical music is mostly accepted, the underground scene is packed with musicians and bands playing contemporary genres including Rock, Metal, Blues and more, and are comprised of members who have helped to highlight the issue by participating in this production.

As Wikipedia and Wikiislam explain, Kuwait law and the Sharia law struggle with an artistic society that is westernizing.

Heated Melodies highlights the challenges of such a society and the stereotyping of musicians and musical genres. The film additionally explores the difference between the acceptance of males vs. females within the context of religious beliefs and musical performance.

JUDY COLLINS - A LOVE LETTER TO SONDHEIM

Music history would not be the same without the work of Stephen Sondheim. Included in his work, Sondheim scored A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, Company, Follies, A Little Night Music, Sweeney Todd, Sunday in the Park with George, and Into the Woods, and he wrote the lyrics for West Side Story and Gypsy.

Music history would not be the same without the work of Judy Collins who hit the charts with such songs as Turn Turn Turn, Send in the Clowns, Hard Lovin' Loser, Both Sides Now, Chelsea Morning just to name a few.

It was pure magic when Collins decided to perform the work of Sondheim in a live performance of love and admiration... and when directors Pierre Lamoureux and Francois Lamoureux recorded the performance, that in itself made history, too!

"A Love Letter to Stephen Sondheim" was filmed in May 2016 at The Boettcher Concert Hall in Denver, CO. Collins took the audience through Sondheim's remarkable treasure-trove of music, interweaving stories of Broadway with her personal anecdotes.

All orchestrations are by Jonathan Tunick, who has been orchestrating Stephen Sondheim's musicals for decades. Tunick's orchestration was used by Collins for "Send in the Clowns," and brought Sondheim his only chart topping song in his esteemed history.

Collins is joined on the program by the Greeley Philharmonic Orchestra, conducted by Glen Cortese.

SCENESTERS: MUSIC, MAYHEM & MELROSE AVE. A DOCUMENTARY 1985-1990

Directed by Desi Benjamin

Many music scenes are best known for a type of music that emanated from that scene. 1985-1990 Los Angeles was very different...

SCENESTERS captures the moment in time when Punk, Glam, Hard Rock, Alternative, Garage, and Metal all collided and meshed in Los Angeles in the mid 80s.

Featured are the first-hand accounts of people who were completely submerged in the culture... people who changed the rules of fashion, set the scene, and made Melrose Avenue ground zero for bands like Guns N Roses, Jane's Addiction, and The Red Chili Peppers.

This ushered in a lifestyle of hard living and lots of partying. Hear from those SCENESTERS who lived through it all to tell tales of the legendary LA scene 1985-1990. Among those interviewed are: Paul Roessler, Bruce Duff, Bernie Bernstein, Bryan Forsythe, Taimé Downe, Greg Steele, Susan Hyatt, Abby Travis, Brian Grillo, Kevin Kipnis, Josh Feilds, Debra Diamant, Dukey Flyswatter, Pat, Munzingo, Christopher Thorn, Joseph Brooks, and Micheal Stewart, all participants in the scene... all scenesters themselves...

Intertwined within these extensive interviews is a soundtrack that digs deep into the music, providing an inside listen to this most unique time in rock genre development and evolution. Included are

TUPAC ASSASSINATION: BATTLE FOR COMPTON (2017)

Directed by Richard Bond

Were the deaths of Tupac and Biggie casualties of a larger crime? Two of the most infamous murder cases in music history are finally explained 20 years after the happened.

The unsolved murders of Tupac Shakur and Christopher "Biggie Smalls" Wallace still stir the public's imagination after 20 years. Yet law enforcement has been at a standstill to produce results. The producers of "American Federale" and the first two "Assassination" films, finally unravel the tangled cases and expose not only who may have done it, but also the conspiracy underneath why these cases have never seen justice.

"Battle For Compton" is the story of "The Machine"; a group of high powered individuals with a very dark secret they killed to keep, and have spent the last 20 years hiding-hoping that one day it will all go away.

This 2017 release is filled with new federal and local government documents, as well as interviews with formerly involved Federal and Local Prosecutors and LAPD Detectives, as well as new witness interviews and unseen Shakur footage, "Battle for Compton" explains how the untimely deaths of Shakur and Wallace were ultimately part of the destruction left in the wake of The Machine and its participants.

This is the story that over a dozen more murders are related to; the story people at the top levels of the justice system do not want you to hear.

Features Tupac Shakur, Biggie Smalls, Suge Knight.

NURSING

PEDIATRIC PAIN MANAGEMENT: TREATING PEDIATRIC PAIN

Pediatric pain can be difficult to manage for many healthcare providers, which can lead to undertreatment. There is a common misconception that children experience pain in the same way as adults, but this has been challenged. Nonetheless, the pain must be understood in order for it to be treated or alleviated in any way. Healthcare providers must do all that they can to help pediatric patients describe the pain, so that it can be effectively treated.

This program provides healthcare personnel with the necessary techniques to utilize when treating pediatric pain, as well as working with children to explain it.

After completing this course, the learner should be able to:

- Compare and contrast the different types of non-pharmacological pain treatments
- Recommend pharmacological pain treatments best for pediatric patients of all ages
- Define cognitive, behavioral, and physical interventions as non-pharmacological therapies for pain
- Explain the three-step analgesic ladder for the management of cancer pain
- Identify techniques to manage different types of pain

BLACK HALT

By Jadadeesh Sa

BLACK HALT is a fusion of fuel source history and economic influence coupled with new science and spiritual approaches to powering our planet.

Starting with a survey and explanation of our planet's oil supply, BLACK HALT presents a global economy in turbulence rooted partially in the historic influence of OPEC.

The film poses the question:

"Can a community of students, scientists, economists, spiritual leaders and the overall human consciousness take control the planet?"

Through the use of superb animation, live action and an extremely clever narrative between two women, BLACK HALT provides an intellectual guide for both current and future generations to follow.

COME ALIVE

By Dave Peters

Love started it... and succeeded!

What would our world look like if more churches followed the example Jesus gave us to serve the poor and needy?

First Baptist Church in Leesburg, Florida, sought to answer that question over 30 years ago and laid the foundation for what is now the Christian Care Center.

The decision was really the answer to a simpler, more contemporary and pragmatic question that the expanding congregation asked of itself and its members:

Build a larger auditorium or invest in the community?

Come Alive is the story of their answer.

Because of the church's deep commitment to "ministry evangelism," the Christian Care Center has touched lives, restored families, and seen thousands of broken, hurting people come to know the love of Jesus.

The heartwarming story of the Christian Care Center will challenge pastors, church planters, and church members alike to follow Jesus as agents of change in the world by mobilizing their communities to serve "the least of these."

CYBORGS AMONG US

Director: Rafael Duran

In just a few years, technology will merge with our bodies in unimaginable ways and push the boundaries of what it is to be human. While medical technology still aims at re-mediating disabilities, cyborgs strive to something else: a merging of man and machine with the goal of enhancing human capabilities.

The first cyborgs are already crossing the boundaries of their human limits just for the sake of it - at home, in basement workshops and tattoo parlors, using low-tech equipment and a do-it-yourself attitude. They are a tiny minority, seen by many as weird or crazy experimenters, but in the near future we may call them pioneers. In this film, we meet some of these explorers. We also look at research in medical technology to assess how close science is to creating cyborgs, and ponder the social and ethical dilemmas of a cyborg society.

HERETIC, THE

Directed by Andrew Morgan

Follows Rob Bell, founder of a megachurch in Michigan, and now an influential writer and speaker, as he spreads a message of love and inclusion and searches for what it means to be human.

There is perhaps no figure in American Christianity as polarizing as Rob Bell. Once a pastor of the fastest growing church in America and heralded as the next Billy Graham, that all changed when he began challenging the traditional understanding of hell and suggesting that heaven might be open to all.

The film follows Rob with unprecedented access over several years as he challenges deeply held conservative ideals while grappling with some of the most important questions of our time: Can faith and science coexist, or do belief and progress stand in opposition? Is religion insufficient for explaining the complexity of our modern world, or does it give language to something even greater? And do spiritual traditions simply serve to further divide our world, or can they offer real help and hope for a better tomorrow?

Surprising, inviting and disarmingly beautiful, The HERETIC is a story about the eternal and the here and now. A poetically unorthodox portrait that offers new language for a bigger, more expansive conversation about faith.

HUSH

Director Punam Kumar Gill

The conspiracy has been coined as the biggest health cover up since cigarettes.

Hush is a liberating conversation about abortion and women's health. It additionally explores a conspiracy relating to the withholding of the information required for solid decision making.

When director Punam Kumar Gill and producers Drew and Joses Martin heard that the health information being given to women prior to an abortion was subject to the politics of the people involved, they determined to put aside individual ideology and take an honest, scientific look at the highly disputed and politicized information around abortions' long-term effects on women's health. What Punam discovers in the process is not just vital to the subject of reproductive health, but also critical to her own life and integral to the ongoing progress of women everywhere.

IN THE SHADOW OF THE REVOLUTION

Directed by Clifton Ross and J. Arturo AlbarrAin

In the Shadow of the Revolution gives voice to critical perspectives on Venezuela's Bolivarian Revolution. The film provides alternative perspectives on Venezuela's Bolivarian Revolution by former Chavez supporters.

In the Shadow of the Revolution, an independent U.S.-Venezuelan collaboration by writer-directors J. Arturo Albarrán and Clifton Ross, gives voice to much-needed alternative perspectives on the country's Bolivarian Revolution. Heavily disseminated Bolivarian propaganda presents a narrative of a popular, left-wing government that has brought great benefits to the population in the face of attacks from a right-wing, "fascist" opposition. Through interviews with social movement activists, journalists, and academics, the film provides a counternarrative that helps explain the current rebellion against a corrupt, inefficient authoritarian government that has created a catastrophe in Venezuela that has brought it to the brink of civil war.

The central protagonist is Rodzaida Marcus Vera, a mother, musician, agroecologist, and indigenous-rights activist whose life, questions, and concerns unfold as she comes to personify the current struggle for democracy in Venezuela today. She grew up in El Valle de Caracas, where her mother was killed by sharpshooters during the 1989 uprising known as the Caracazo. After that life-changing event, Rodzaida studied sociology at the Central University of Venezuela and became involved in the campesino/agroecology movement. As she describes it, she "fell in love with the Process" in its beginnings under Hugo Chávez but became concerned after his turn toward socialism in 2007.

Rodzaida's reflections through the course of the film are complemented and amplified by interviews with, among others, historian/sociologist Margarita López Maya; labor journalist Damián Prat; National Assembly MP, lawyer, and transgender activist Tamara Adrian; workers of the basic industries of Guayana, including former political prisoner and union leader Ruben González; and members of left parties and organizations such as Marea Socialista and Bandera Roja.

ISAAC HECKER AND THE JOURNEY OF CATHOLIC AMERICA

The United States was founded on the ideals of religious liberty and individualism, concepts that to many seemed diametrically opposed to Roman Catholicism. But one man sought to show that Catholicism and Americanism are not incompatible.

Using popular communication methods of his day, Isaac Hecker became a courageous voice for Catholicism in nineteenth-century America. Given the hostility between the Old World and the New, Hecker's ministry earned the derision of both his fellow Americans as well as many in the Catholic hierarchy in Rome.

"Isaac Hecker and the Journey of Catholic America" features the voices of Martin Sheen (The West Wing), Matt McCoy (The Hand that Rocks the Cradle), Bob Gunton (The Shawshank Redemption), Jay O. Sanders (JFK, The Day After Tomorrow), and David Ushery (WNBC, News 4 New York) as well as interviews from some of the leading historians and clergy in North America.

JOURNEY INTERRUPTED

In Journey Interrupted, five individuals share their personal stories of struggle with sexual identity in relation to how The Bible interprets their challenges. It is a comparative between gender identity and faith.

This 2017 documentary addresses two key questions:

What does the Bible say about gender identity and homosexuality;

How should Christians respond to these divisive issues?

These questions are explored with candor and sensitivity through the lens of personal testimony. This important film is refreshingly transparent, deeply honest as it offers hope for healing and wholeness through Jesus Christ.

NO MATTER WHERE: THE HEALTHCARE DOCUMENTARY

It is the challenge of these United States to develop and maintain advanced infrastructure on all fronts including superior medical technology and healthcare, but people don't ask for it, not all clinicians believe they need it and there is a lack of will to invest in it. The result is that an estimated 200,000 people die from medical errors in American hospitals annually.

It might be an obvious conclusion that since many medical practices use computers to record patient information, and since hospitals also use computers for such information, that these two worlds must be exchanging that information.

Unfortunately, while this has been a dream for many decades, it has yet to be realized in this country.

When co-Directors Kevin B. Johnson, MD, MS and Barry Simmons first started exploring the work being done to make The Health Information Exchange come together... about the pace of that work...

they were astonished. As they went through the reasons why, it became clear what a difficult challenge the exchange of information was, although not the least bit because of technical issues.

The development of a true Health Information Exchange is a major challenge of the 21st century, one that needs to be overcome both technically and politically.

"No Matter Where" explores the complexities of the numerous issues that have to be addressed from the technology involved to the adoption of practice by participants all along the informational path. It is an overwhelming challenge and "No Matter Where" sheds great light on the status of the effort.

"No Matter Where" is the result of a few voices out of Nashville and the home of Vanderbilt University Medical Center; one of the top 15 ranked medical schools in the country.

ONLY ME GENERATION - AN INTROSPECTIVE LOOK INTO CHINA'S ONE-CHILD POLICY

The one-child policy, a part of China's family planning policy, was a population planning policy of installed by the Chinese government. It was introduced in 1979 and began to be formally phased out in 2015

"Only Me Generation" is a documentary that explores the effects of the China's "One Child Policy" from the perspective of the policy's first generation point of view.

Almost 30 years ago, the Chinese government first introduced the "one child policy" to alleviate social, economic and environmental problems. Three decades later, they are now looking at a relaxation of the policy. The result is that the babies born under the current policy are a unique population set with issues and challenges that are different from those of other Chinese generations; most notably that they grew up as "only children".

This film provides a unique look into a unprecedented government policy that changed the rules of a society, impacted far more than a generation, and can now be studied on a variety of fronts. The film raises numerous questions and serves as a wonderful launching point for discussion and debate.

What are the strengths and weaknesses of "only children" in a generation of only "only children"?

What are the pressures that these children, the results of the policy, have lived under?

How have parental expectations changes due to family limits on the number of children permitted?

What are their social experiences now that these Only Me Generation children are now adults?

What are the ramifications, if any, of relaxing the policy now after so many years?

PISTOL 1: PRACTICAL FIREARMS & SHOOTING FUNDAMENTALS

Directed by Jorge Serra

In an era when the carrying and use of firearms is constantly being debated nationwide, safety training becomes of the utmost importance.

According to the Crime Prevention Research Center's 2016 report, there were over 14.5 million concealed handgun permits issued last year... the largest increase ever in the number of permits approved.

Colleges across the nation are offering Firearms Safety and Training courses, most notably in the states that have now authorized the carrying of concealed weapons on campuses. Westmoreland County Community College (PA), Glendale Community College (AZ), Yavapai College (AZ), Alvin Community College (TX), Northeast Wisconsin Technical College (WI), Gulf Coast State College (FL), Kilgore College (TX) are just a few that have coursework available as part of their curriculum. But most colleges and universities don't offer such classes despite the rise in the number of concealed weapons permitted either on or around campuses.

Practical Firearms & Shooting Fundamentals is not another typical training video; it's an instructional training film that embeds you along with four students while they learn about firearms safety and how to improve their pistol shooting skills.

The film features a team of Law Enforcement, Firearms, and Security Professionals with over 50 years of experience who together share their vast knowledge. Included are former Navy SEAL JD Williamson, Julio Serra, Terry Bryson, Migda Casas, Jessica Linares, Danica Williamson, Bruce Jacobs, and Chris Velez.

Director: Ken Stewart

The Richmond Rosies were part of the vanguard of women during WWII who left their homes to take jobs that were once the exclusive domain of men. From 1942 to 1945, they helped build 747 Victory and Liberty ships at the Kaiser Shipyards in Richmond, CA, the largest shipyard in the world at that time.

The 5 featured women in the film became "Rosies"; short for Rosie the Riveter. They became journeyman welders, pipe welders, draftswomen, and electricians. And they built ships. Big ones... and lots of them. By the end of the war, women made up 60% of Kaiser's workforce which included the Oregon facility.

This film was made to honor the American women who helped to win a victory for their country as well as themselves. Individually and collectively they were part of a massive woman's movement and helped give birth to a new, and very independent American woman with their ambition, guts, skill, and fierce independence.

These are "The Richmond Rosies". These are the women who built ships.

SOLITARY STRENGTH: THE STORY OF CATTLEWOMAN DOROTHY STOVER HALL

By Trudy Duisenberg

At the height of the Great Depression

Dorothy Stover Hall saved her paycheck and at the age of 26 bought a 130 acre ranch.

The American West, Sustainability and Women's History combine in a tale of the spirited determination of one working woman who spent her life going against the grain. Her legacy is one of confidence, integrity and self-contained dignity.

Dorothy Stover Hall, born in 1910 in the high country of the Sierra Nevada foothills of Northern California, was the grand child of legendary pioneer families who were among the first cattle ranching families of the West.

SOLITARY STRENGTH: The Story of Cattlewoman Dorothy Stover Hall is the tale of a very authentic working woman and her spirited determination.

This beautifully produced historical documentary will appeal to audiences that love stories of the American West, Women's Studies and Sustainability.

SOUTHERN FIX, A

A Southern Fix is feature length documentary about an American tragedy that leaves over 3 million dead annually. That's the approximate number of healthy dogs and cats euthanized in U.S. shelters each year. To put this into perspective, it's the approximate 2016 population of Chicago, and it's a hard number to comprehend... 8200 every day / 342 every hour / nearly 6 per minute!

Approximately 7.6 million companion animals enter animal shelters nationwide every year. Of those, approximately 3.9 million are dogs and 3.4 million are cats. Almost half are euthanized.

Filmmakers Michael Samstag and Josh Gildrie went on a quest to find out why. Traveling over 5000 miles, they interviewed experts from the HSUS, ASPCA, Animal Rescue Corp, Animal Aid USA, Companion Animal Institute of TN, Young Williams Animal Shelter, UT vet school and dozens of shelters, humane societies, rescues, vets and volunteers.

The journey took them to surprising places and the resulting film became more than a film about a problem. It became a film about the discovery of solutions. A Southern Fix is a film about how we can stop the slaughtering.

STRANGER, THE

By Linda Midgett

The Stranger is a 40-minute documentary film commissioned by the Evangelical Immigration Table. The film's log line best describes it: "Immigrants, Scripture and the American Dream".

The film profiles three immigrant stories and includes interviews with local and national Christian leaders. By highlighting biblical teaching related to immigrants, sharing compelling stories of immigrants who are also evangelical Christians, and addressing some common economic and political misconceptions, The Stranger seeks to mobilize viewers to respond to immigrants and to immigration policy in ways that are consistent with biblical principles.

SYMBOLS OF RESISTANCE: A TRIBUTE TO THE MARTYRS OF THE CHICAN@ MOVEMENT

Symbols of Resistance illuminates the untold stories of the Chican@ Movement with a focus on events in Colorado and New Mexico. The film engages student activists, the effect of police repression, and how issues of identity, land, and community still resonate in the Chican@ struggles of today.

Through interviews with those who shaped the movement and rare historical footage, Symbols of Resistances offers a window into a dynamic moment in history and movement building.

Interviews include prominent Chicana leader Priscilla Falcon, activist lawyer Francisco "Kiko" Martinez, Mexican Liberation organizer Ricardo Romero, former director of El Pueblo History Museum Deborah Espinosa, and veteran reporter, photographer, and newspaper editor Juan Espinosa.

TABOO IDENTITY, A

By Craig Muckler

What happens if your past overshadows your present?

A Taboo Identity is a visual study in personal branding and identity transformation in the modern era.

The film explores Kay Taylor Parker's journey from being a legend in the adult film industry to her current work as a metaphysical counselor. It addresses today's challenge of identity and the now common issue of past vs. present; a struggle faced many in our changing times. Along the way, Kay has had to come to terms with the conflict between her "porn star" identity and her identity as a spiritual teacher, healer, and guide. It is a journey in which Kay has discovered and rediscovered herself.

TRUMP: THE ART OF THE INSULT

By Joel Gilbert

Donald Trump used his special brand of the Art of the Insult to attack opponents and bash the media all the way to the White House in 2016. He continues to master the art with ongoing fine-tuning from the podium, his office and of course on Twitter.

While critics insisted "The Donald" was merely a chaotic sideshow, Trump continues to dominate the 24-hour news cycle with a master plan of political incorrectness. Hurling insults like Low-Energy Jeb, Lyin' Ted, Crooked Hillary, Little Marco, Pocahontas, and Fake News, Trump has emerged as an unstoppable political phenomenon who has transformed the Presidential voice into the greatest show on earth.

Trump: The Art of the Insult tells the story of Donald Trump's improbable journey from Trump Tower to rallies across America to the debate stage, where he reveled in mocking and taunting rivals with targeted insults and nicknames, leaving them gasping for air. As President of the US, he continues the trend.

In Trump: The Art of the Insult, the President is often sophomoric and sometimes brutal, yet America seems to always find him entertaining. Love or hate Donald Trump, you'll find yourself laughing along with the leader of the free world, and marveling at Trump.

Is "the Real Donald Trump" a marketing genius and accomplished performance artist or....?

WHEN THE SAINTS

By Dan Parriss

When the Saints documents one young man's mission to end sexual exploitation in the African nation of Malawi (the small nation tucked between Zambia and Mozambique). It is a journey of discovery that begins in his own heart.

The film calls upon all of us to care about justice for girls trafficked in rural Africa, and additionally examines the ways that lust, personal impurity, pornography, and distorted views about romantic relationships serve to feed the problem. At the same time it asks us to personally examine the ways we either dignify or exploit our brothers and sisters.

When the Saints is a thought-provoking and powerful tool to rally our awareness of this truly world-wide issue. Beautiful, honest, vulnerable, and wildly compelling, this story challenges us all to explore the unplumbed depths of our hearts
